'The BIG Workshop'

because CONTEXT counts

Day One

Creating a Vision for Wellbeing Growth and Development

-  Better understand and embrace a CONTEXTUAL WELLBEING framework for real-world wellbeing development in your classrooms, staffrooms and in your whole school.
-  Unpack your core values, to establish what matters to you as an educator, and as a person supporting the wellbeing of others.
-  Learn how to effectively undertake a meaningful wellbeing audit of your classroom, staffroom or whole school community, to realize what authentically works, what challenges, and what next.

Identify what works, what matters, and what next; to create meaningful, equitable, real-life wellbeing in your classrooms, staffrooms and whole-school communities

Day Two

Moving Forward Collaboratively and Cohesively for Long-term Success

-  Build knowledge and skills to manage resistance to change, and ensure your students, colleagues and parents are on board emotionally as well as practically.
-  Create a journey of equity and inclusion. Our focus includes students identifying as neurodivergent, experiencing anxiety and trauma, and those who consider themselves to be outliers of their school community.
-  Understand how to measure impact and move forward with confidence, competency and clarity.

You are welcome to attend a single day. Please note, however, this is a two-day event and those attendees participating in both days will receive a certificate of course completion

Overview

“Contextual Wellbeing is a wake-up call... for all educators who wish to create more positive schools”

Professor Pasi Sahlberg

Building Your Unique Contextual Wellbeing Action Plan

The philosophy of Contextual Wellbeing is built on a universal understanding of Self-Determination Theory (SDT), and the basic rights of every child.

This event will help you build Contextual Wellbeing with the considered development of you and your students' autonomy, relationships and ongoing competency, and a clear focus on equity, safety and inclusion. How this looks, feels and sounds, will be dependent on the unique experiences within each classroom, staffroom and whole school community.

'What works well' and indeed, what challenges staff, students and parents varies according to who you are and where you are. Influencing factors include type and style of your school, the culture, the shared measures of success, and the values of everyone in the community. Together we will create a meaningful ACTION PLAN to ensure that wellbeing development is relatable, relevant and resonates with all those within your unique context.

We will embrace Contextual Wellbeing for both students and staff, in the reality of your daily school life. As such, you will be encouraged to shift your attention away from the 'next big thing' in wellbeing programs; and instead, embrace the art and science of building thriving wellbeing communities, with an appreciative focus.

Dr Helen Street is an internationally acclaimed social psychologist and education consultant, supporting CONTEXTUAL WELLBEING in education communities around the world.

She is also a best-selling author, well-known presenter, an honorary fellow at The University of Western Australia, and the co-founder of Positive Schools.

Helen will be joined by leading Australian experts in trauma-informed practice from The MacKillop Institute and leaders from Peer Support Australia.

Group and individual registrations welcome. School teams have the option to work together.

All participants will leave with a comprehensive ACTION PLAN, and WORKBOOK, along with the offer of CONTINUING SUPPORT and guidance.

Copies of Helen's new book The Impossible Question of Living Well, additional workbooks, and copies of Contextual Wellbeing will be available at the events.

Certificates of course completion provided. Attend Day One, Day Two or the 'Full Event'!
